

Sept 10, 220hz, right side goal

Dr. Strange - E goes in and up and down to the fork, a bit on the wrong side. Before getting there, e turns around then begins to turn around again, but stops and begins to retract in between the speakers. E is still on the wrong of the tube. E begins to open again but not for long and stays in that position for the remainder of the ten minutes. I open the cap and lay down some carrot. After 2 minutes without movement, I spray em. Minutes go by, I remove em.

Isabella - E goes right in and up and heads down on the correct side, but then meanders a bit toward the wrong side and gets to the forks slight on the wrong side, but then turns toward the correct direction and goes that way into the fork, then goes in a little (when I say that, I mean just eir head or so). then, e turns around and heads back toward the entrance. E stops a little past half way, sits there for a little bit, then turns around again to exactly the same spot she went into the maze before, looking toward the correct direction, then going toward it. E sits there looking in. then retracting bit for the rest of the time. I open that cap and lay down the carrots. E starts moving forward again. E does circles then goes back between the speakers and retracts. Eventually, I pull em out.

Trails - E heads in and up and straight down the middle toward the fork and into the fork, then goes toward the correct side and sticks eir head in, then fully goes in. Toward the cap (but not in) e turns around and heads back to the fork, then turns around again and heads back toward the cap, this time entering the cap, but then circles around again. At 10 minutes, I open the cap and lay down the carrot. Trails begins to turn around. E goes and looks out the correct direction, then goes back in and circles around a bit more. E seems to just be playing in the tube and starts to come out again when eir 30 minutes is up.

Big Yellow - E goes up and in and heads down the tube on the correct side, then turns and heads down the other, but then straightens, then turns as if to go back, then turns back toward the fork in the correct direction, then enters the fork and then stick eir head in the correct side then continues in and meanders back and forth in there, then turns around to go back to the fork but stops short. E stays there until eir ten minutes are up. I open the cap and lay down the carrot. E slowly makes eir way to the exit and leaves the maze.
